Description

All second grade classrooms will compose a class poem on things they are thankful/grateful for at school with their general education teachers. Each class poem will be made into a musical composition in music class. Following each class poem, each student will be asked to write their own "Thankful" or "Grateful" poem. Once those poems are finished, students will be creating a paper quilt project with their poems in art class. Some students will also create a large quilt of the class poem. As a culminating activity, the students will be singing their poetry songs and art work will be displayed at the second grade music concert in January.
