

Arts Integration: Understanding Why and How • January 13, 2009
Resources provided by Russell Granet, Director of Arts Education Resource

1. Arts Education Evaluation Report: Champions of Change - to download report go to the bottom left of the web page and click on download Champions of Change. The report is easy to read and well organized. It offers language good for proposal writing and advocacy purposes.

<http://artsedge.kennedy-center.org/champions>

2. Great video camera to capture the performing arts and easy to use - The Flip.

<http://www.theflip.com/>

3. Sir Ken Robinson speaking about creativity. A perfect video to begin a staff or faculty meeting - only 18 minutes long - a must watch.

http://www.ted.com/index.php/talks/ken_robinson_says_schools_kill_creativity.html

4. Professor Elliot Eisner's 10 Lessons on why the arts are important.

http://artseducation.suite101.com/article.cfm/elliot_eisner_s_10_lessons

5. Center for Arts Education - parent involvement guides.

http://www.cae-nyc.org/parent_guide.php

6. NYC Department of Education - Blueprint for teaching and learning in the arts. A K-12 sequence in the visual and performing arts.

<http://schools.nyc.gov/offices/teachlearn/arts/blueprint.html>